

CARVE COMMUNICATIONS

MAGAZINE BRICKELL

Under The Sea

Swing Into The Creative Currents

Swing into the creative currents of underwater photography exhibition Deep Focus in 2013 with the accomplished talents of our artists. Ayşegül Dinçkök is no exception to better understand the relationship between land and sea. All the photographs in the exhibition were used to support the Mediterranean Conservation Society's 'Project Fisherman's' project to assess and better the current working conditions and secure their life on fishing boats with higher security standards. In...

MAGAZINE BRICKELL

STROKE OF GENIUS

From its inception in Miami Beach in 2012, Art Basel has pushed the potential of contemporary art in Miami and beyond, again recently creating a historic moment that has inspired artists and collectors alike.

POP CULTURE

sNEWSI

Raw Pop Up Exhibit Sets Out to Prove Sharks Are "Misunderstood"

December 7, 2018 - 8:30 AM Miami New Times - Luis Gomez Underwater photographer Ayşegül Dinçkök and free-diving record holder Sabika Ertemen set out to prove sharks aren't a dangerous threat to humans by swimming with them on multiple occasions in Jupiter Point. [Read More]

A grid of six small article thumbnails with titles like 'Artists, Artists', 'U.S. Department of Education', and 'Photo Surgeon'.

A grid of six more small article thumbnails with titles like 'Artists, Artists', 'Dinner Table Talk', and 'Change in Climate'.

Miami

Do it for the 'gram: Don't miss these photo-worthy Art Basel installations

A large article featuring a photo of a colorful, abstract art installation and text about Art Basel week.

MAGAZINE KEY BISCAYNE

STROKE OF GENIUS

From its inception in Miami Beach in 2012, Art Basel has pushed the potential of contemporary art in Miami and beyond, again recently creating a historic moment that has inspired artists and collectors alike.

POP CULTURE

STROKE OF GENIUS

From its inception in Miami Beach in 2012, Art Basel has pushed the potential of contemporary art in Miami and beyond, again recently creating a historic moment that has inspired artists and collectors alike.

POP CULTURE

Ayşegül Dinçkök-December 2018

A collection of social media posts from Instagram and Facebook, including photos of art installations and text-based posts.

A collection of social media posts from Instagram and Facebook, including photos of art installations and text-based posts.

A collection of social media posts from Instagram and Facebook, including photos of art installations and text-based posts.

MAGAZINE KEY BISCAYNE

MAGAZINE BRICKELL

SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up

A video player interface for 'SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up' with a play button, a progress bar, and a 'Check out our content!' button.

MAGAZINE KEY BISCAYNE

MAGAZINE BRICKELL

SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up

A video player interface for 'SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up' with a play button, a progress bar, and a 'Check out our content!' button.

MAGAZINE KEY BISCAYNE

MAGAZINE BRICKELL

SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up

A video player interface for 'SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up' with a play button, a progress bar, and a 'Check out our content!' button.

10

PIECES OF COVERAGE:

14.9M

ONLINE READERSHIP:

40K

CIRCULATION:

CULTURE & ART

POPULAR

STROKE OF GENIUS

From its inception in Miami Beach in 2002, Art Basel has pushed the proverbial cultural envelop in Miami and beyond, single-handedly creating a lifestyle movement that has inspired dozens of iterations and spin-offs that has resulted in what we now call Miami Art Week: An all-out artistic catharsis that takes up far more than the implied 7 days on our calendars.

Compiled by Jorge Arauz, Sandy Lindsey, Anja Maltav & Estrellita S. Sibila Photos courtesy of Art Basel, Aqua Art Miami & HistoryMiami Museum | November 29, 2018 | Culture & Art

What's Happening?!

A Brief Primer Of Art Week 2018

An estimated 268 (More than 1,250 if you count the satellite fairs) of the top galleries & museums from 34 countries will be showing us what they've got at Art Basel Miami Beach, the anchor show during this year's Miami Art Week taking place for most of the first half of December, but officially running Dec. 6-9. Since launching in 2002, it's become North America's premier art fair, featuring paintings, films, videos, sculptures, drawings, photography, digital art and installations from 4,000+ artists from around the world who descend on The Magic City's shores to rub elbows with the art world's top curators, museums, dealers, collectors and aficionados. Throughout the years, the buzz has extended far past Basel into 20+ satellite art fairs (think SCOPE, Design Miami, Fridge, Superfine!, PINTA and Red Dot) and hundreds (maybe thousands!) of parties. This year is expected to welcome nearly 100,000 professional & novice art aficionados to the festivities. Also new this year: A completely overhauled Miami Beach Convention Center and there will be no more outdoor free public exhibits, sculptures or film projections at The Bass and SoundScape Park. Instead, twice a day during the fair, the non-paying public will be welcomed into a special ballroom for 20-minute live performances. — Anja Maltav

Eclectic Experiences:

Unexpected Venues Welcome The Best RSVP's

Island In The Light

@ Gran Paraiso in edgewater

H2O Hero

When Dana Tricarico arrived in Miami to obtain her Master's in Professional Science at UM's RSMAS on Virginia Key, she never could have imagined it would lead her to where she is today.

Powerhouses 2019

Whether you are looking for a smart real estate investment, a vacation property or your forever home, the leading industry professionals we've gathered will guide you in the right direction with expert insights, savvy tips and some of the best listings available in Miami, Brickell, Key Biscayne and beyond.

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

5.59K

CIRCULATION:

25K

Under The Sea

Diving Into The Creative Currents

Initiating her first underwater photography exhibition Deep Passion in 2013 with the overwhelmed creatures of our oceans, Aysegul Dinçkök is on a mission to better understand the relationship between land and sea. All the photographs in the exhibition were sold to support the Mediterranean Conservation Society's "Aegean Fisherwomen" project to assist and better the women's working conditions and secure their life on fishing boats with higher security measures. In her latest work, the photographer partnered with Free Diving World Record holder Sahika Ercümen to dive 30 meters underwater in Jupiter Point, Florida, to capture photographs of the "poetic dance, swimming in harmony with the ocean's predators." The artist believes that if approached carefully, all creatures can live together in harmony with nature. "Only misunderstandings can create conflict," she says. "And true beauty lies just beneath the surface." — Anja Maltav

CULTURE & ART

POPULAR

STROKE OF GENIUS

From its inception in Miami Beach in 2002, Art Basel has pushed the proverbial cultural envelop in Miami and beyond, single-handedly creating a lifestyle movement that has inspired dozens of iterations and spin-offs that has resulted in what we now call Miami Art Week: An all-out artistic catharsis that takes up far more than the implied 7 days on our calendars.

Compiled by Jorge Arauz, Sandy Lindsey, Anja Maltav & Estrellita S. Sibila Photos courtesy of Art Basel, Aqua Art Miami & HistoryMiami Museum | November 29, 2018 | Culture & Art

What's Happening?!

A Brief Primer Of Art Week 2018

An estimated 268 (More than 1,250 if you count the satellite fairs) of the top galleries & museums from 34 countries will be showing us what they've got at Art Basel Miami Beach, the anchor show during this year's Miami Art Week taking place for most of the first half of December, but officially running Dec. 6-9. Since launching in 2002, it's become North America's premier art fair, featuring paintings, films, videos, sculptures, drawings, photography, digital art and installations from 4,000+ artists from around the world who descend on The Magic City's shores to rub elbows with the art world's top curators, museums, dealers, collectors and aficionados. Throughout the years, the buzz has extended far past Basel into 20+ satellite art fairs (think SCOPE, Design Miami, Fridge, Superfine!, PINTA and Red Dot) and hundreds (maybe thousands!) of parties. This year is expected to welcome nearly 100,000 professional & novice art aficionados to the festivities. Also new this year: A completely overhauled Miami Beach Convention Center and there will be no more outdoor free public exhibits, sculptures or film projections at The Bass and SoundScape Park. Instead, twice a day during the fair, the non-paying public will be welcomed into a special ballroom for 20-minute live performances. — Anja Maltav

Eclectic Experiences:

Unexpected Venues Welcome The Best RSVP's

Island In The Light
@ Gran Paraiso in edgewater

Powerhouses 2019

Whether you are looking for a smart real estate investment, a vacation property or your forever home, the leading industry professionals we've gathered will guide you in the right direction with expert insights, savvy tips and some of the best listings available in Miami, Brickell, Key Biscayne and beyond.

Top Team

Great Properties Int'l Realty celebrated its Christmas lunch at Grand Bay Club to show its appreciation to all it's agents for all the hard work they do all year long.

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

1.84K

CIRCULATION:

15K

Under The Sea

Diving Into The Creative Currents

Initiating her first underwater photography exhibition Deep Passion in 2013 with the overwhelmed creatures of our oceans, Aysegul Dinçkök is on a mission to better understand the relationship between land and sea. All the photographs in the exhibition were sold to support the Mediterranean Conservation Society's "Aegean Fisherwomen" project to assist and better the women's working conditions and secure their life on fishing boats with higher security measures. In her latest work, the photographer partnered with Free Diving World Record holder Sahika Ercümen to dive 30 meters underwater in Jupiter Point, Florida, to capture photographs of the "poetic dance, swimming in harmony with the ocean's predators." The artist believes that if approached carefully, all creatures can live together in harmony with nature. "Only misunderstandings can create conflict," she says. "And true beauty lies just beneath the surface." — Anja Maltav

WHAT ▾

WHEN ▾

WHERE ▾

TRENDING ▾

NEWSLETTER

FOLLOW US

By continuing to use this site, you give your consent to our use of cookies for analytics, personalization and ads. LEARN MORE

Posted on November 29, 2018

Do it for the 'gram: Don't miss these photo-worthy Art Basel installations:

You are going to want to climb this rainbow and then take a photo. Ghost Frequencies

Christiana Lilly
For Miami.com

Art Basel

Art Basel 2018

The art fair tents are popping up and the Facebook invites are flooding in: it's Art Basel season.

From giant red SOLO cups, private jets, police impound lots, selfie walls and giant lady bits, there are plenty of exhibits that better make it onto your Instagram feed. So for your posting pleasure, we pored over the exhibits and picked out the spots you (and your followers) cannot miss.

SOLO TOGETHER

TRENDING

XXXTentacion's mother just posted the sex of his...

Nicki Minaj teases sexy video for 'Good Form,'...

Internet star Lele Pons shakes like Shakira in a new sexy...

This new restaurant brings Puerto Rico to Miami...

Rumors confirmed: Reggaeton star Nicky Jam is separated from

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

468K

Women & Sharks: A Deeper Bond

by MMM Miami November 30, 2018

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

322

Hearing the word "Shark" while swimming in Florida's beaches is enough to have beach-goers conjure up images from the movie Jaws and immediately evacuate the water. Yet, us Floridians still seem to look forward to Shark Week every year. Sharks are clearly misunderstood and misjudged. The biggest threat to the world is not trying to understand each other and constantly destroying the beauties of the earth. Well-known Turkish underwater photographer, Mrs. Ayşegül Dinçkök, loves to capture the wonders of the underwater world in combination with her other passion; woman empowerment. Here, we learn about the impact of her art in Miami.

Ayşegül initiated her first underwater photography exhibition "DEEP PASSION" in 2013 with the overwhelmed creatures of our oceans, to better understand their relationship with humans. All the photographs in the

LATEST NEWS

Don't miss these photo-worthy Art Basel Week installations

BY CHRISTIANA LILLY

DECEMBER 01, 2018 07:00 AM, UPDATED DECEMBER 03, 2018 11:29 AM

Get ready to take the best Instagram videos ever! The digital pop-up art gallery Artechouse opens Dec. 8 in Miami Beach. Grab a friend and buy your tickets!

By Connie Ogle | Marta Oliver Craviotto

From giant red SOLO cups, private jets, police impound lots, selfie walls and giant lady bits, plenty of exhibits are perfect for your Instagram feed. We pored over the exhibits and picked out the spots you (and your followers) won't want to miss. Best yet: Most are free.

SOLO TOGETHER

From shunning plastic straws to Pinteresting how to compost, we've become more eco-friendly and aware than ever. Paula Crown's series of giant, crushed SOLO cups in the Miami Art District will have us rethinking our favorite red party cup — after we take a photo, of course.

Revised Wall Art in Wynwood

Serena Williams launches new fashion line at Art Basel

VIEW MORE VIDEO →

TRENDING STORIES

From 'empty and dark' to happier than ever. Miami's ESPN star Dan Le Batard on life at 50

JANUARY 06, 2019 10:51 AM

P.E. teacher got away with sexually harassing girls for 13 years — then he raped one, lawsuit says

JANUARY 06, 2019 11:10 PM

How Manny Diaz's salary compares with Mark Richt's and the benefit to UM

JANUARY 05, 2019 10:53 PM

Dave Barry's Year in Review: Is there

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

12.1M

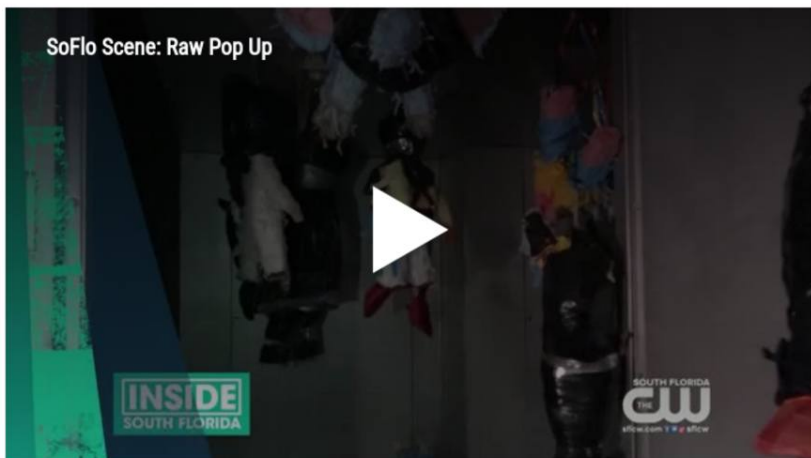

SoFlo Scene: Raw Pop Up

POSTED 12:20 PM, DECEMBER 5, 2018, BY PROMO TEAM, UPDATED AT 12:18PM, DECEMBER 5, 2018

FACEBOOK 12

TWITTER

It's Miami Art Week and art installations come in all shapes, sizes and locations. In fact, this year's Raw Pop Up show takes place in an abandoned department store in Downtown Miami and it features over 80 creators, performers and musicians.

"Every single artwork, you can touch it, smell it, eat it, feel the temperature, and feel muscle tension," said Head Curator Tam Gryn.

You enter the experience through a loading dock, then take an industrial elevator, pass through an industrial kitchen that will include edible art performances, make your way through the food court, into the retail area, win Check out our contests!

We always have fun prizes!

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

25.8K

Underwater photographer Aysegul Dinçkök.

Courtesy of Aysegul Dinçkök

ADVERTISEMENT

ADVERTISEMENT

RECOMMENDED FOR YOU

- Five Ways to Recover on New Year's Day in Miami
- The Best Films of 2018, According to Miami Movie Experts

ADVERTISEMENT

KEEP SCROLLING OR CLICK TO READ:

Exhibit Sets Out to Prove Sharks Are "Misunderstood"

Exhibit Sets Out to Prove Sharks Are "Misunderstood"

LUIS GOMEZ | DECEMBER 7, 2018 | 8:30AM

f Sharks are the reason we watch Discovery Channel for an entire week every year. They've carried countless horror movies without saying a word. And they're why Ian Ziering still has a career. We can't get enough of these predators. They fascinate and terrify us at the same time.

e Underwater photographer Aysegul Dinçkök and free-diving record-holder Sahika Ercümen set out to prove sharks aren't a threat to humans by swimming with them on multiple occasions in Jupiter Point. There was no cage protecting the two Turkish women. The only thing separating them and 20 or so sharks was water. Photos and footage from this eye-opening adventure are on display during their Raw Pop Up-hosted Miami Art Week exhibit, titled "Misunderstood," Wednesday through Sunday at the old Burdines building.

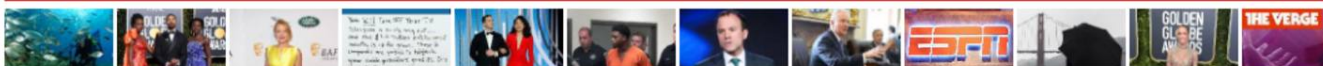

AA

ADVERTISEMENT

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

2.27M

Raw Pop Up Exhibit Sets Out to Prove Sharks Are "Misunderstood"

December 7, 2018 - 8:30 AM Miami New Times - Luis Gomez
 Underwater photographer Aysegul Dinçök and free-diving record holder Sahika Ercümen set out to prove sharks aren't a dangerous threat to humans by swimming with them on multiple occasions in Jupiter Point. [\[Read More\]](#)

More stories about Aysegul Dinçök

(EST.) MONTHLY VISITS:

49.1K

You May Like

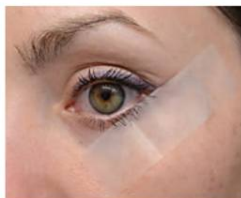

Ashburn, Virginia Drivers Are Stunned By This New Rule

EverQuote Insurance Quotes

U.S. Cardiologist: It's Like a Pressure Wash for Your Insides

Health Headlines

Plastic Surgeon Reveals: "You Can Fill In Wrinkles At Home"...

Beverly Hills MD

If You Have an iPad, This Strategy Game Is a Must-Have

Download on the App Store | Forge

Common Signs of Psoriatic Arthritis

Psoriatic Arthritis | Search Ads

Sponsored Links by Taboola

Ashburn Apartments Have Seniors Packing Their Bags

Senior Living | Search Ads

Remember Linda Kozlowski? Try Not To Smile When You See H...

BuzzAura

A Piece Of Aluminum Foil May Change The Way You Use Your...

Tip Tricks

Change Is Coming to Cremation And Funeral Pricing

Consumer Daily

20 Hair Shapes That Can Make a Woman Over 60 Look 40

Fitdib